THE CHARTER

SIX NIGHTS THROUGH SOUTHEAST ALASKA

This is a private charter of M/Y Hanse Explorer through the northern Inside Passage, from Juneau out to the Inian Islands and back through Frederick Sound over six nights in August. It is a route built around what August does to this coast: the salmon are running, the brown bears are on the streams, and the humpbacks are grouped up and bubble-net feeding in the straits. Twelve guests, one yacht, and an itinerary that stays flexible enough to sit with a pod of whales or hold at a calving face for as long as the moment lasts. EYOS's shoreside team has run this coast for decades, and a private yacht reaches the smaller fjords and inlets that larger ships cannot. The days below are the plan; the weather and the wildlife have the final word, which is how it should be.

THE ROUTE

A scenic view of a glacier in Alaska. The foreground shows a large, white, textured glacier. In the middle ground, a body of water is filled with smaller ice floes. Two people are visible on kayaks in the water. The background features steep, rocky mountains with some green vegetation. The entire image is overlaid with a semi-transparent dark blue filter.

*"To the lover of wilderness, Alaska is one of the most wonderful places in the

THE YACHT

M/Y HANSE EXPLORER

M/Y Hanse Explorer is a purpose-built expedition yacht, 47.76 metres, made to work high-latitude coasts like this one. She carries twelve guests across seven en-suite cabins with a crew of fifteen and a dedicated expedition team, so the ratio aboard is heavily in the guests' favour. On deck she launches Zodiac tenders and inflatable kayaks and runs a full dive operation, which is what lets the charter reach the narrow inlets, the ice-choked fjords and the quiet anchorages that the itinerary is built around.
